

The work that the Authority has done to evaluate the relative merits of six different delivery options has spurred a great deal of discussion among transportation officials in both states in recent weeks. Those discussions are productive and continuing. The Authority desires to have the results of the states' discussions before either it or its Finance & Construction Planning Committee meets again to make a formal recommendation on the delivery model. As a result, the meeting of the Authority's Finance & Construction Planning Committee scheduled for this Thursday, November 10th has been cancelled. We will provide the details for our next meeting once a new date has been selected.

In the meantime, the Authority will continue to meet with key officials in both states in the process of building a consensus around the best path forward.

Thank you for your patience and we look forward to providing an update soon.
